Cashmere Molding Inc Awarded ISO 9001:2008 Certificate of Registration

Woodinville, WA – Oct. 23, 2009 – Cashmere Molding Incorporated, a top Northwest plastics producer, announced it has been awarded the internationally renowned ISO 9001:2008 quality management certificate of registration (FM 548147).

“Obtaining the ISO 9001:2008 certificate of registration is an important step for our company and reflects our own dedication to quality,” said Greg Herlin, President and CEO of Cashmere. “This accomplishment demonstrates to our current and future clients our ability to meet and exceed their expectations for quality, consistency and a superior product.”

ISO 9001:2008 is an internationally recognized quality management standard that requires companies to undergo a rigorous audit process that tests their ability to define, implement, monitor and continually improve client-related processes that will satisfy customers' expectations and lead to quality products and services. Some of the requirements for obtaining the ISO 9001:2008 certificate of registration include:

- a set of procedures that cover all key processes in the business;
- monitoring processes to ensure they are effective;
- keeping adequate records;
- checking output for defects, with appropriate and corrective action where necessary;
- regularly reviewing individual processes and the quality system itself for effectiveness; and
- facilitating continual improvement

In order to obtain the ISO 9001:2008 certificate of registration, Cashmere participated in an extensive third-party independent audit of the processes and procedures in place at its plant. To maintain the certificate, the processes are audited internally and by a third-party auditor to ensure the system continues to operate at this high level of quality and improves based on monitoring, measuring and client feedback.
